Standard First Aid and Level (c) CPR with AED Training for Hockey Trainers

Panno Medical teaches the most advanced and up to date CPR and First Aid courses on the market. The courses are recognized and approved by WSIB and follows International CPR Guidelines (ILCOR).

We teach what we do at work every day!

We supply only fully qualified and licensed Paramedics to teach our courses. We are able to answer all of your questions during our courses, because chances are, we have dealt with that scenario multiple times.

Panno Medical will provide classroom training at our location or yours. We can customize your First Aid Course with different electives, for the most optimal course to suit your specific needs. We focus on hands on training and scenarios as opposed to multiple hours of power-point presentations.

You will walk away from these courses feeling confident, competent and with the best training on the market, taught to you by professional Paramedics.
